

Pennies Challenge Waiver

For security purposes, NatPay deposits and withdrawals a random amount between 01¢ and 99¢ into new-client bank accounts during the initial setup process so that the amount may be used to verify account access authorization via submission of an Account Activation Form to NatPay.

Certain clients of NatPay's Professional Payroll Processor customers (PPPs) may be exempt from submitting the Account Activation Form to NatPay verifying account access authorization ONLY if the PPP agrees to assume full responsibility for any issues (and fees) that may arise and pertain to incorrect account access authorization information / payment data provided to NatPay for a PPP's selected client accounts.

By completing this Pennies Challenge Waiver, the PPP named below hereby agrees to the terms of responsibility described above, and understands that their client(s) will not receive NatPay's New Account Confirmation Report or the Account Activation Form normally required to verify account access authorization.
